

Department of Community Development 2020 Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report

CR-05 - Goals and Outcomes

Progress the jurisdiction has made in carrying out its strategic plan and its action plan. 91.520(a)

This could be an overview that includes major initiatives and highlights that were proposed and executed throughout the program year.

The CDBG entitlement grant was fully spent down within the 2018 Program Year (PY) and accomplishments for all programs entered into IDIS. Douglas County continued to address the top priorities of housing and transportation identified by the community without CDBG funds. The County leverages these efforts through in-kind staff resources and local grants. Partnerships with non-profit organizations build organizational capacity and increase services to low- and moderate-income residents through Douglas County Cares (DC Cares), the Douglas County Housing Partnership (DCHP). The grants awarded from funding sources such as RTD, DRCOG, the Philip S. Miller Trust and Developmental Disability Mill Levy helped to leverage these partnerships and are estimated to be over $3,400,000. In addition, the County received over $45,000,000 in federal funds through the CARES Act, American Rescue Funds and the Emergency Rent Assistance grants, which were primarily directed to businesses, non-profits and individuals in need of rent or utility assistance.

Douglas County opted out of the CDBG program in 2016, suspending specific progress toward the goals identified in the 2014-2018 Consolidated Plan and Strategic Plan. Table 1 on the following page compares the estimates in the Strategic Plan with actual numbers from Sub Grantee-reports, and measures program accomplishments over the 5-year span of the Consolidated Plan. The “Expected Strategic Plan” illustrates the original estimates from the Consolidated Plan and the “Actual Strategic Plan” is the cumulative total of accomplishments with limited CDBG funding. As the Consolidated Plan expired in 2018, a new Strategic Plan with goals, spending estimates and expectations will be set if the County rejoins the CDBG program in the future.

“Direct Financial Assistance to Homebuyers” on page 3 illustrates the accomplishments from the 2020 PY, which continues through the DCHP Revolving Loan Funds (RLF) Program. Loans in the form of down payment assistance or shared equity loans are paid back into the DCHP program and used to assist new homebuyers. As such, DCHP is unable to estimate the number of loans that will be repaid, the number of income-eligible clients who will request down payment assistance or the number of affordable homes for sale. Three households were assisted with the RLF program.

Table 1 - Accomplishments – Program Year & Strategic Plan to Date

Assess how the jurisdiction’s use of funds, particularly CDBG, addresses the priorities and specific objectives identified in the plan, giving special attention to the highest priority activities identified.

Two of the highest priority needs identified in the 2014-2018 Consolidated Plan are housing and transportation. Douglas County works closely with subgrantees throughout the program year to address CDBG priorities, goals and objectives. Affordable, accessible and community-supportive housing remain high priorities. The DCHP purchased three community-supportive housing units for the DC Cares program. The DCHP expended $228,952 of their 2015 grant to purchase one of the units. Each family in the program is limited in the time they are allowed to live in the transitional units, which increased the number of households assisted with supportive housing to eight during the 2020 PY.

CR-10 - Racial and Ethnic composition of families assisted

Table 2 – Table of assistance to racial and ethnic populations by source of funds

Narrative

Douglas County assisted a total of eight residents within the racial categories reflected in the table above. The County's population is 90% Caucasian and 9% identify as Hispanic. Appendix A provides a more complete demographic breakdown of people assisted to demonstrate the protected classes that were served and compliance with Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing (AFFH). In addition to the information reported in IDIS, the categories in Appendix A represent female head of household, handicapped and elderly residents. There were 2 female head of households, 1 handicapped and 1 Hispanic family assisted. The County affirmatively furthers fair housing by promoting the services and opportunities available to female head of households, handicapped residents and those of different races and ethnicities through local partnerships. Examples include non-profits such as Help and Hope Center which provides emergency assistance to low-income residents and Developmental Pathways, the County's Community Centered Board. Appendix B illustrates the medical services and promotional materials available to the Spanish speaking population by local agencies such as Connect for Health Colorado.

Table 3 - Resources Made Available

Narrative

The 2020 PY report describes the program income spent from August 1, 2020 through July 31, 2021. Appendix C includes the IDIS reports required by HUD. The CAPER narrative elaborates on how CDBG-funded projects, as well as how other programs available in the county, assisted low- and moderate-income residents.

The County expended all grant funds distributed by HUD through the CDBG program prior to July 31, 2019. The last draw from the CDBG entitlement grant was created on July 24, 2019 for activity 163, the Sedalia Water and Sanitation District Infrastructure project.

The PR09 demonstrates the DCHP draws and receipts in RLF during the 2020 program year. The RLF is an important resource which is replenished as DCHP clients pay back their loans which are returned to the program. DCHP will reinvest these funds in affordable housing programs, through down payment assistance or shared equity loans.

No target areas were selected. The County doesn't own any public lands that can be made available for housing or other uses.

Leveraging

Explain how federal funds leveraged additional resources (private, state and local funds), including a description of how matching requirements were satisfied, as well as how any publicly owned land or property located within the jurisdiction that were used to address the needs identified in the plan.

Leveraging through Douglas County partnerships to provide housing, transportation and other essential services is estimated at $3,400,000. Housing is the most critical need identified in the Consolidated Plan. While the County has no land available for housing, DCHP is building 45 new affordable senior units on the existing Oakwood Senior Apartment property in Castle Rock. Completion is scheduled for February of 2022.

CDBG grants and RLF funds leverage credit counseling, first-time homeownership counseling, foreclosure mitigation counseling and reverse mortgage counseling. DCHP has two Revolving Loan Funds (CDBG and HOME) used for down payment assistance, primarily for its Shared Equity program. DCHP is under contract with the Colorado Housing and Finance Authority to provide monthly classes for first time homebuyers.

Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) funds are leveraged with the in-kind contribution of DC Cares partner agencies to provide case management, supportive housing and other direct services. Funds used to support the Community Data Project are leveraged with funds from DRCOG Older American Act funds, 5310 transportation funds and DRCOG Human Service Transportation Funds. Douglas County supports these initiatives with in-kind staff resources. In total, CSBG funds are leveraged to provide $2.7 million in services. This includes $116,421 in CSBG funds received by Douglas County during the 2021 program year.

The County received 31 applications for Philip S. Miller Trust funds totaling $395,204 in requests. The majority of these competitive applications are from non-profit organizations providing safety net services benefiting vulnerable adults, seniors or at-risk youth. The programs facilitate self-sufficiency, suicide prevention, and address gaps in emergency assistance and medical and mental health services. The County awarded $280,000 in Philip S. Miller Trust funds in 2020.

Just under $797,366 in requests were received from 25 organizations serving people with disabilities in 2021. Non-profit and for-profit companies requested funds to provide transportation, recreational and leisure scholarships, or to purchase new equipment to increase services to people with intellectual or developmental disabilities (I/DD).

CR-20 - Affordable Housing 91.520(b)

Evaluation of the jurisdiction's progress in providing affordable housing, including the number and types of families served, the number of extremely low-income, low-income, moderate-income, and middle-income persons served.

Total	398	0

Table 6 – Number of Households Supported

Discuss the difference between goals and outcomes and problems encountered in meeting these goals.

Feedback from the community indicates affordable housing is the most pressing need. The County estimated direct financial assistance would be provided to 150 households during the 2014-2018 Consolidated Plan. The goal was unmet due to a highly competitive housing market and a limited supply of affordable homes for income qualified families. The eight families assisted with down payment assistance through the revolving loan fund (RLF) positively impacts family stability through their ability to maintain employment, attend school and engage in their community.

The County's primary means to support construction of new affordable housing units is through Private Activity Bonds (PABs), which has helped to address the goal of Rental Units Constructed (page 2) without a direct CDBG funding source. PABs can be issued to encourage private investment in housing, higher education, jobs, solid and hazardous waste treatment and water and sewer facilities. Douglas County, Castle Rock and Parker choose to use PABs for multi-family housing units, and assign their collective PABs to DCHP to issue, manage and preserve for this use.

The DCHP works with affordable housing developers on their applications for Low Income Housing Tax Credits. In March of 2020, DCHP issued $21,200,000 in PAB Cap for tax-exempt financing of 134 independent senior living units in Highlands Ranch. All of the 134-units will be for income eligible residents age 55 and older with income at 60% or below the area median income. DCHP issued $40,000,000 to solidify plans to build independent living and memory care units as part of a development with a mix of private pay and tax credit units for seniors. A total of 97 affordable units is planned.

Developers of Apex Meridian plan to add 310 units for families earning no more than 60% AMI. Financing includes 4% Low Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTC) and Private Activity Bonds (PAB). DCHP is working with the City of Lone Tree on the Ridgeway Affordable Apartments, which is planning for 64 affordable units in a transit-oriented development. DCHP received zoning approval to add 45 units of senior housing on the Oakwood Apartments site, which they own and manage, and successfully applied for 9% LIHTC to complete the financial package.

Discuss how these outcomes will impact future annual action plans.

Moving forward, goals will be estimated to account for uncertainties in the economy and the housing market based on the current pandemic. Housing options that include programs offering services with significant success rates among clients, such as DC Cares, will be considered. The participating DC Cares agencies review applications and determine which families are the best fit for the program. These families are informed of the six- to nine- month commitment required, and the expectations associated with program participation.

The revolving loan fund is an important resource administered through the Douglas County Housing Partnership. The RLF continues to build due to the limited availability of affordable homes. As down payment assistance loans are paid back by homeowners that refinance or sell their homes, those funds are made available to income-eligible residents request assistance to purchase a home. The RLF is the primary source of funding for down payment assistance, and the County will determine how to move forward with the RLF program in the coming months.

Include the number of extremely low-income, low-income, and moderate-income persons served by each activity where information on income by family size is required to determine the eligibility of the activity.

Number of Households Served	CDBG Actual	HOME Actual
Extremely Low-income	11,338	0
Low-income	5,313	0
Moderate-income	2,184	0
Total	18,835	0

Table 7 – Number of Households Served

Narrative Information

The efforts to address the needs of extremely low-income persons in the County are demonstrated through the winter shelter network, initiated in 2016. Douglas County has limited options for sheltering homeless families and this can become a critical issue during the winter months. Homeless families cycle between friends and family and living in their car, with an occasional stay in a motel, because there is no local shelter.

CARES Act funding has been allocated to support the winter shelter network as they move to a non-congregate model of care as a result of COVID-19. Hotel vouchers will be tracked in the Community Data System. Additional funds remaining will be used to support emergency rent assistance after local CARES Act funds have been utilized. These funds will support similar outcomes of maintaining housing for 30 days but will be available for residents who are not receiving case management through DC Cares.

CR-25 - Homeless and Other Special Needs 91.220(d, e); 91.320(d, e); 91.520(c)

Evaluate the jurisdiction's progress in meeting its specific objectives for reducing and ending homelessness through:

Reaching out to homeless persons (especially unsheltered persons) and assessing their individual needs

Douglas County has few individuals and families that meet HUD's homeless definition. The immediate goals are to engage those at risk of homelessness by providing services appropriate to their needs and decrease the likelihood of homelessness by improving self-sufficiency. Assessment of their needs is an ongoing process through the services provided by the Douglas County Department of Human Services, Douglas County (DC) Cares, and local non-profit organizations.

Douglas County's Community of Care Coordinator reaches out to homeless people throughout the county about six times per year. During outreach to the homeless, the Coordinator provides people with food and resources and offers assistance when appropriate. Douglas County's homeless population looks very different from other areas in the Denver metro region where shelters are available. Many people do not consider themselves to be homeless because they are living with family or friends, therefore it is often difficult to find and identify them.

Douglas County coordinates with the Metropolitan Denver Homeless Initiative's (MDHI) Point-in-Time (PIT) Survey to identify homeless persons. The winter "Strive to Thrive" event, planned in conjunction with the PIT Survey, provides on-site services and information to residents in need. Substantial outreach ensures a more accurate representation of homelessness in the PIT Survey. The survey's purpose is to count the number of HUD-defined homeless people on one specific night. The County coordinator for the PIT Survey distributes and collects surveys through the Community of Care Network (CCN), which consists of 50 agencies that collaborate to address issues of poverty and homelessness in the county.

The February 27, 2021, winter "Strive to Thrive" event pivoted to a drive-through opportunity for food and resources. The information provided generally meets the transportation, employment, supportive, and emergency services goals. The event was supported by 5 foodbanks with the help of volunteers who packed and distributed 300 food and resource bags to the 189 residents who attended the drive-through event.

A summer "Strive to Thrive" event is focused on the needs of families readying their children for school in the fall. The summer Strive to Thrive Services and Resource Fair was held on July 28, at Southeast Christian Church in Parker. The event was modified this year due to social distancing requirements and held in a drive-thru fashion. In total, 402 residents were served, over 150 boxes of food were distributed and over 240 children were provided backpacks and school supplies.

Addressing the emergency shelter and transitional housing needs of homeless persons

The annual Point In Time Survey of Homelessness occurred on February 26, 2021 and surveys are typically collected at the winter Strive to Thrive event. However, the count of unsheltered homeless was waived by HUD this year due to COVID-19.

Low survey results give the impression that homelessness is not a serious issue. Douglas County's homeless population largely consists of residents who are temporarily living with friends or family, or in a hotel or vehicle. These residents are not included in the PIT Survey. The McKinney-Vento Coordinator for the Douglas County School District identified 557 homeless students as of March 2021.

The Crisis Center, Douglas County's domestic violence emergency shelter, continues to provide a safe environment for clients through motel vouchers or rent assistance. They maintain a seven-bed shelter for residents who are in imminent danger of domestic violence.

From November 2020 to October 2021 the Winter Shelter Network provided 96 households a total of 2,607 nights of shelter through this collaborative highly coordinated process. The shelter location rotates among churches. Due to the pandemic a hybrid model was created Clients are assessed to determine if domestic violence or other dangers pose a concern. Motel vouchers may be provided for these circumstances. Men are directed to a local non-profit organization where they will receive a motel voucher from an existing program and additional resources.

The DCHP purchased a total of three community-supportive housing units that offer transitional housing for families participating in the DC Cares program. Each housing unit can be rented up to a year, depending on the family's specific circumstances. Additional resources are provided to assist families in obtaining and maintaining self-sufficiency.

Helping low-income individuals and families avoid becoming homeless, especially extremely low-income individuals and families and those who are: likely to become homeless after being discharged from publicly funded institutions and systems of care (such as health care facilities, mental health facilities, foster care and other youth facilities, and corrections programs and institutions); and, receiving assistance from public or private agencies that address housing, health, social services, employment, education, or youth needs

The County coordinates with existing partners and is in the process of building new relationships to better serve people who have been discharged from institutions or systems of care.

In 2015, the Collaborative Program for Reintegration was created by the Douglas County Sheriff's Office Detentions Division, along with the Douglas County Department of Human Services and Douglas County Community Justice Services. This collaboration was created to address the recidivism rate of individuals with substance abuse, mental illness, temporary homelessness and lack of employment. The reintegration program has expanded the collaboration to include the 18th Judicial District Public Defenders Office, Probation, Douglas County Cares, AD Works!, and AllHealth Network. The reintegration program provides inmates with tools that will assist them in overcoming the barriers that they face upon their release from jail. Meetings are held weekly to discuss the needs of these individuals, the options that are available and the best way to obtain them.

AllHealth Network utilizes case managers and housing program coordinators to provide referrals to outside resources and connections to help prevent homelessness. Residents leaving an institution or system of care might be able to access the State's Housing Voucher Program or the Colorado Second Chance Housing and Rehabilitation Program.

The WrapAround Program exists under the umbrella of the Douglas County Youth Initiative. Typically, clients who become a part of the program are referred from other agencies, such as the Douglas County School District or the Juvenile Assessment Center. The WrapAround Program does not offer funding for housing, but the family facilitator can connect families with agencies that provide rent assistance.

Individuals or families can also access rent assistance or motel vouchers if funding is available. A variety of agencies such as the Task Forces and local churches can provide a limited amount of assistance.

Residents with an intellectual or developmental disability who are being released from an institution can contact Developmental Pathways, which is Douglas County's local Community Centered Board (CCB). CCBs manage access to Medicaid-funded waiver programs which may be able to support these individuals with community-based supports.

The Colorado Choice Transitions program is a demonstration program designed to facilitate the transition of Medicaid clients from nursing or other long-term care facilities to the community using home and community-based services and supports.

The Community Response Team is a collaborative effort, pairing a full time, trained law enforcement officer and a behavioral health clinician and support from fire department. They respond to active 911 calls for service that have a primary behavioral health concern and then conduct follow up visits with the individuals to ensure a sustained intervention. The team also makes preventative contact with individuals who are determined to be high utilizers of emergency systems, such as 911 and local emergency rooms. The DCMHI has deployed Community Response Teams in Castle Rock, unincorporated Douglas County and the City of Lone Tree.

The Care Compact is a new project of the Douglas County Mental Health Initiative that links existing care coordination service providers through a streamlined network, to serve vulnerable individuals with complex mental health and substance use disorders and intellectual and developmental disability needs. By connecting care coordination services, the Care Compact reduces duplication, improves transitions between levels of care and ensures fewer gaps in treatment while producing better outcomes for those in need. The County hired a Care Compact Navigator to serve as the hub in a case management and care coordination network of provider organizations.

Helping homeless persons (especially chronically homeless individuals and families, families with children, veterans and their families, and unaccompanied youth) make the transition to permanent housing and independent living, including shortening the period of time that individuals and families experience homelessness, facilitating access for homeless individuals and families to affordable housing units, and preventing individuals and families who were recently homeless from becoming homeless again

DC Cares is comprised of partner agencies, which work in partnership for the benefit of homeless and vulnerable residents. This program involves case management as well as other supportive services to increase the client's chances of obtaining and maintaining self-sufficiency.

Families interested in participating in the program will be required to meet several eligibility requirements. Local agencies that participate in the Community of Care Network may refer any eligible resident for program consideration. The organizations which form DC Cares will assess all referrals and select residents to participate in the program.

Typically, participants enrolled in DC Cares work with a facilitator for 9-12 months. During this time, a framework of care and support is provided by a facilitator. A variety of assistance, services, and tools are made available to participants as they work to overcome barriers to achieving stability, capacity, capability and opportunity. Success is measured by participants who successfully achieve self-sufficiency, employment, and housing.

Residents interested in applying for Douglas County Cares can complete an online application or contact one of the County's partner agencies. After submission of the application, residents who meet initial screening standards will complete an intake assessment and screening with one of our partner agencies.

Douglas County provides grant opportunities to local non-profits who assist vulnerable people avoid homelessness and stabilize families. One example is Bridge of Hope, awarded a grant from the Philip S. Miller Trust that provides help for single mothers facing homelessness.

An existing barrier for homeless families in the Denver metro area is finding a willing property manager to accept Section 8 vouchers. This issue is being addressed locally by the DCHP. They plan to increase the housing options available by building relationships and working closely with property managers to encourage them to accept Section 8 vouchers. Another barrier faced by residents with a poor credit history is the lack of consideration they receive when applying for a rental unit.

CR-30 - Public Housing 91.220(h); 91.320(j)

Actions taken to address the needs of public housing

Douglas County does not have any public housing.

Actions taken to encourage public housing residents to become more involved in management and participate in homeownership

N/A

Actions taken to provide assistance to troubled PHAs

N/A

CR-35 - Other Actions 91.220(j)-(k); 91.320(i)-(j)

Actions taken to remove or ameliorate the negative effects of public policies that serve as barriers to affordable housing such as land use controls, tax policies affecting land, zoning ordinances, building codes, fees and charges, growth limitations, and policies affecting the return on residential investment. 91.220 (j); 91.320 (i)

Douglas County staff attend pre-submittal meetings for all applicants proposing to develop land or change an existing use. When pre-submittal meetings include an affordable housing proposal, Community Services staff attend the meetings. Staff can offer contacts for additional partnerships that lead to additional leveraging of funds and networking opportunities. Staff suggests the developer contact DCHP if they haven't already done so, for information that will potentially benefit the project. Applicants can request permit fee waivers, reductions in parking requirements or make an argument to local jurisdictions to reduce building costs.

The County has developed several strategies to reduce barriers to affordable housing. Douglas County has integrated affordable units into an entire development, instead of clustering all the units together. This scattered site technique has helped to offset the stigma of affordable units and does not appear to detract from the ability to draw in buyers for a variety of price ranges. The County has also developed flexible standards through the Planned Development and rezoning process to simplify and streamline new housing developments. This flexibility is meant to hold down costs and enable the rezoning process to proceed quickly.

Douglas County plans to work closely with the DCHP, other jurisdictions, and developers to leverage funding sources such as CDBG dollars, tax credits, PABs, and other grant opportunities, to increase the number of affordable housing units available in the county. This may include the development of permanent supportive housing to assist residents who require additional support to overcome more complex barriers to housing and self-sufficiency.

The Douglas County Department of Community Development continues to improve its planning process. The development review process is not considered to be a hindrance or barrier to developing affordable housing in the county. Development fees charged by the County for planning, engineering, and building services are low or comparable to the fees charged by other jurisdictions. The County has greatly reduced the processing time for development review through a combination of regulatory streamlining, shortened process timelines, and departmental coordination. Faster development review saves developers and businesses time and money when development is linked to affordable housing.

The County has been affirmatively furthering fair housing by providing fair housing education when contacted by residents asking about discrimination and creating a fair housing webpage. CDBG staff members are designated to receive calls regarding fair housing and staff takes every opportunity to educate callers about fair housing. The County intends to continue to provide education by preparing materials for special events and expanding the web page.

CDBG staff promotes fair housing in a variety of ways to ensure residents have information available if they feel they have been discriminated against. Douglas County has a web page devoted entirely to fair housing including information about fair housing laws, types of discrimination, resources, and contacts.

Actions taken to address obstacles to meeting underserved needs. 91.220(k); 91.320(j)

Capital operating funds will provide on-demand transportation trips for older adults and adults with disabilities. A combination of two grants from the Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG) benefitted seniors by allowing them to remain safely in their homes. Many seniors have the vitality to live independently but cannot feasibly handle all of the work associated with owning a home. Vision challenges and hearing loss are common issues for seniors, making it difficult to drive or maintain a home.

Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG) approved a senior adult services grant for $355,354 for 2020-2021. The transportation, chore, homemaker, personal care, reassurance calls and material aid are allowed uses for the grant.

The Regional Transportation District (RTD) awarded the County $153,000 in local funds from a portion of the County taxes collected. Most of the funding allocation was used to provide a minimum of 2,670 trips for low- and moderate-income residents accessing employment and critical services. A portion of the funds was also used to support First Call, the county's resource and information line. In addition, $137,868 in human services transportation funds provided 4,463 trips.

The Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT) awarded the County $443,350 in mobility management in Federal Transit Administration (FTA) funds. Capital operating funds provided on-demand transportation trips for older adults and adults with disabilities.

Aging Resources for Douglas County (ARDC) is a one-stop center for giving and receiving information surrounding aging issues. Volunteer service programs provide support for transportation, help at home, and companionship. Rural outreach programs, community education and senior resource navigation help connect just over 500 registered clients to resources for older people and information that promotes aging with independence and dignity. Eight out of ten clients have a low income, live in a rural area, are frail, or have a disability. Forty-two percent live alone with little or no family support. The organization pivoted from providing transportation to delivering groceries and prescriptions to 300 low-income households each month. Volunteers have provided thousands of phone calls to isolated older adults staying-at-home during the pandemic. ARDC has given zoom lessons and FaceTime classes to the older community and is exploring funding opportunities to provide video devices to older residents to have in their homes and maintain connections to family, friends and ARDC volunteers. Appendix D illustrates the events held specifically for seniors as well as other pertinent learning opportunities everyone can enjoy.

The County is one of the Philip S. Miller Trust Fund recipients and distributes the funds through a competitive grant application process. The County affirmatively furthers fair housing by funding programs such as a summer camp for transgendered youth.

The County provides 94.5% of the Developmental Disabilities Mill Levy (DDML) to Developmental Pathways. The remaining 5.5% is set aside for a competitive grant program. Organizations are awarded funds for respite, therapeutic recreation, and activities that build socialization skills for people with I/DD. The County affirmatively furthers fair housing by funding programs for residents with I/DD and other disabilities.

Actions taken to reduce lead-based paint hazards. 91.220(k); 91.320(j)

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment’s (CDPHE) Disease Control and Environmental Epidemiology Division is responsible for overseeing lead-based paint abatement, pre-renovation notification, and the certification of lead professionals in the state of Colorado. In 2020, the CDPHE tested blood lead levels for 19,614 children ages six years and under from throughout the state. Out of the 19,614 children tested, a total of 287 had blood lead levels greater than or equal to 5 ug/dL. CDPHE also provides data specific to each county. Tests were conducted on 543 Douglas County children under six years of age in 2020. Five cases of blood lead levels were greater than or equal to 5 ug/dL from the age group tested. The CDPHE recommends different types of follow up based on the results of their lead level. Tri-County Health Department performs home investigations on children with confirmed elevated blood lead levels.

Lead-based paint hazards are minimal in Douglas County because 83 percent of the housing units were built after 1990. Douglas County has approximately 5,907 housing units that were built prior to 1978, the year lead-based paint was banned nationwide for consumer use. These homes are potential sources of exposure to lead-based paint. While 5,907 is a comparatively small number, the residents who live in these homes are potentially at risk of lead poisoning.

Exposure to lead hazards can lead to lower intelligence, learning disabilities, and behavioral issues. Adults exposed to lead hazards can suffer from high blood pressure, headaches, and memory loss. In addition, populations living below the poverty level are more likely to have other factors that increase their risk of lead poisoning. Risk factors include poor nutrition and sub-standard housing.

Actions taken to reduce lead-based paint hazards included:

- Ensuring safe lead-based paint work practices meet HUD and EPA requirements for any residential units that received funding through the CDBG program.

Screening all residential units built prior to 1978 for lead-based paint hazards when those homes received rehabilitation services through CDBG-funded activities.

Actions taken to reduce the number of poverty-level families. 91.220(k); 91.320(j)

Douglas County invests resources to reduce the number of poverty-level families through the DC Cares program. Participating families are assigned a facilitator from the agency best suited to meet their needs based on their assessment. Case managers work closely with families in acquiring stable housing and increasing employment opportunities. The program also addresses other barriers such as unreliable childcare, health problems, and lack of transportation. Participants include DCHP, Douglas County School District, AllHealth Network, Bridge of Hope, Catholic Charities of Central Colorado, Manna, Crisis Center, Parker Task Force, SECOR, and the Church of the Rock. Each agency contributes their own unique set of skills, along with leveraged funds, enabling the program to serve additional clients. Families benefit from the coordination between all partner agencies.

Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), RTD, and DDML funds also assist in reducing poverty. TANF-eligible residents must demonstrate that they have a job, are searching for a job, or are receiving education that provides job skills. The County awards TANF funds to non-profit organizations already serving income-eligible families to minimize trips to the Department of Human Services.

The Douglas County Sheriff's Office supports alternative placement for sentencing through its Work Release Program. Incarcerated individuals are afforded the opportunity to continue working while serving their sentence. This allows them to maintain their current job, provide for their family, and reduces the possibility of them falling into poverty. This approach eliminates the need to secure a new job or housing after being released from jail.

The following actions also facilitate reduction in the number of poverty-level families:

- Awarded non-CDBG funds to transit agencies to provide work-related rides to low-income residents.
- Awarded non-CDBG funds to organizations serving residents with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) to increase services available locally.
- Encouraged subgrantees to apply for additional grant opportunities.
- Provided technical assistance to subgrantees, as needed.
- Promoted grant opportunities, network events, and training sessions to local organizations.

Encouraged organizations to collaborate, share resources and leverage funds to serve additional clients.

Actions taken to develop institutional structure. 91.220(k); 91.320(j)

Technical assistance to local organizations is provided to assist them in increasing their capacity and their ability to serve unmet needs. Douglas County will continue to provide opportunities for collaboration among organizations. Collaboration is necessary for the institutional structure and service delivery system to work effectively and efficiently in meeting the community's needs. The County will continue to build relationships with new organizations to expand the service delivery system and address gaps. The County will also take advantage of the strengths in service delivery from the DC Cares program. Organizations involved in the DC Cares program help create conditions where low-income,

Douglas County residents achieve self-sufficiency. The DC Cares program can access a wide variety of assistance, services, and tools to help overcome the gaps in service delivery in the County.

The Community Data Project is a community initiative that coordinates services between multiple agencies that leverage resources to serve vulnerable populations. Since the initial utilization of the data system during the 2017 Data Pilot Project the total number of agencies using the system has grown to 19. This project is considered a community infrastructure project which seeks to expand the ability of community-based agencies to provide integrated services through the utilization of the data systems. Outcomes will include the increased number of agencies utilizing the system and increased coordination of County transportation and adult programs.

Tri-County Health Department is ramping up case investigation and contact tracing efforts to help stop the spread of COVID-19. The NEW Community Services Branch has been added as part of the COVID response structure. The Community Services Branch will provide case management services to people with positive COVID-19 tests or identified during the contact tracing process. Case managers will connect people to identified resources to help them stay home safely.

Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires public entities with more than 50 employees to designate at least one employee to coordinate responses to complaints alleging non-compliance with ADA regulations. Douglas County has appointed an ADA coordinator to act as the central point of contact and revised the County's grievance procedures to allow for prompt and equitable resolution to complaints. An email address has been established to offer an alternative means of lodging an official complaint in addition to the mail service.

The Parker Police Department is committed to equitable and fair policing practices. The Department has championed a progressive set of policies and practices, including their Body-Worn Camera policy, endorsed by the American Civil Liberties Union, for being fair and equitable in protecting civil rights and privacy. Parker is affirmatively furthering fair housing by working to safeguard the civil rights when the Parker Police Department interacts with residents.

Actions taken to enhance coordination between public and private housing and social service agencies. 91.220(k); 91.320(j)

In partnership with Tri-County Health and Douglas County, the "Let's Talk" campaign is intended to reduce the stigma around mental illness so that individuals who need treatment are more likely to seek it. It is designed to help start the conversation about mental health and offers tips for talking to residents who may be experiencing mental illness.

Additional actions taken to enhance coordination between public and private housing and social service agencies include:

- Ongoing discussions with developers regarding the possibility of issuing Private Activity Bonds for new affordable housing options.

- Informing potential non-profit and for-profit partners about the benefits of participating in the Community of Care Network.
- Providing opportunities for housing and social service agencies to network and build capacity. For example, the joint grant providers monthly meeting allows for discussion of process questions and includes technical assistance, best practices, coordination of services, and grant updates.
- Offering referrals to new organizations that would benefit from the leadership, programs, services or collaboration with other organizations.

Participating in the Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG).

Identify actions taken to overcome the effects of any impediments identified in the jurisdictions analysis of impediments to fair housing choice. 91.520(a)

The 2011 Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI) identified four fair housing barriers in the county. Progress was made in addressing Impediments 1, 2 and 3 during the 2020 PY. Impediment 4 was addressed during the 2014-2018 Consolidated Plan time period as the Douglas County zoning regulations were thoroughly reviewed, and County staff found no barriers to fair housing.

Impediment No. 1. There is a shortage of transit opportunities for persons with disabilities, seniors, and low-income residents. Douglas County's dedicated Mobility Program Coordinator works with local transit agencies on an ongoing basis. The County applied for funds through the Federal Transit Administration, the Regional Transportation District (RTD), and DRCOG to provide door-to-door transportation for transit dependent residents. Grant accomplishments are tracked, and the number of clients served are reported. One-third of the Developmental Disabilities Mill Levy competitive grant awards are used set aside for transportation-related requests to ensure organizations can build the infrastructure needed to provide rides or increase services within existing programs. In 2020, six organizations were awarded DDML funds for transportation. Four received awards to provide transportation scholarships and two received awards for new vehicles.

Impediment No. 2. The County could be more diverse and balanced. Of the 9% of the Douglas County population identifying as Hispanic, 60% indicate Mexican origin, 15% "Other Hispanic or Latino", 8% Central American, 7% Puerto Rican, and smaller subsets of Cuban and Dominican decent. There are approximately 7,200 Spanish speaking households in the County, about 10% of which describe themselves as limited English speaking. It is becoming more common for community organizations to publish invitations to community events in Spanish and have Spanish speaking volunteers and staff. The Youth Initiative organized La Leagua, a Soccer league for Spanish speaking youth. The Douglas County branch of the Colorado University Extension Office is organizing individuals interested in establishing a community garden project for Spanish speakers. Efforts such as these, can lead to more diversity when non-English speakers see themselves as welcomed into and have a place in the community.

Impediment No. 3. There is a lack of understanding of fair housing issues among residents in Douglas County. Douglas County reduced Impediment No. 3 through ongoing informal fair housing discussions with providers and residents. Staff continues to discuss and assess HUD's Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing requirements and monitors the Federal Register for new AFFH regulations. Douglas County's fair housing web page provides a variety of materials and links. An "I Speak" card and a minority population map are included in the appendix of Douglas County's Language Assistance Plan (LAP). Staff uses the "I Speak" card to allow clients to point to their spoken language so an interpreter can be contacted to translate when needed.

The DCHP RLF was the only active program in the 2020 program year. The DCHP requires attendance in a First-Time Homebuyer class prior to receiving down payment assistance or a shared equity loan. The class includes a fair housing module to help attendees identify discrimination during the home buying process, increasing their understanding of fair housing issues.

CR-40 - Monitoring 91.220 and 91.230

Describe the standards and procedures used to monitor activities carried out in furtherance of the plan and used to ensure long-term compliance with requirements of the programs involved, including minority business outreach and the comprehensive planning requirements

When Douglas County has active Subgrantees, staff completes an informal monitoring in the form of phone calls, emails, reviewing draw requests, site visits and progress. An annual risk assessment tool is used as the formal mechanism to conduct a desk audit and monitor all active programs. Currently, the only active subgrantee is DCHP and the organization is receiving income through the revolving loan program and reusing the funds to assist additional homebuyers with down payment assistance or shared equity loans.

Staff uses an annual risk assessment tool modeled after HUD's annual assessment of CDBG entitlement communities. This tool was designed to expedite the annual review of each active project during the program year and rates each organization's program using pre-determined criteria. Evaluations include specific rating considerations and point assignments. This risk assessment tool also includes a scoring system intended to help identify subgrantees that may be in need of additional technical assistance. A score of 0 to 34 is a low risk and 35-70 is considered a medium risk. A high-risk score is 71 and above.

Assessments provide staff with an equitable basis to determine who receives an on-site monitoring visit. Subgrantees are ranked from highest to lowest risk based on their assessment score. An on-site monitoring visit is typically conducted when an organization has a high-risk score. High scores can indicate the need for additional technical assistance to reduce the risk of not using funds in a timely manner. Exceptions to an on-site monitoring are considered on a case-by-case basis. Staff continues to work closely with subgrantees and local non-profits that help at-risk residents to provide technical assistance and will maintain CDBG project files.

A desk audit for DCHP's RLF was conducted with each quarterly report of income and draws throughout the program year. The reports were on time and complete. No concerns were identified during the informal monitoring of the program. A risk assessment was completed at the end of the program year for all RLF activity. The DCHP scored 42, which is considered a medium risk. The largest contributing factor to their score was the program spans over multiple years. Appendix E illustrates the criteria measured and risk assessment results for DCHP.

Minority business outreach in Douglas County can be challenging as County staff has no access to information identifying which businesses are minority owned, nor has a minority business applied for CDBG funding. Instead, the County informs minority owned construction businesses of infrastructure projects funded by CDBG through the metro area Chambers of Commerce for several minority groups, assisting the County in meeting fair housing obligations, increasing awareness of potential bidding opportunities. If the County rejoins the CDBG program in the future, staff will review the objectives for reducing homelessness through minority business outreach during the Consolidated Plan process.

Citizen Participation Plan 91.105(d); 91.115(d)

Describe the efforts to provide citizens with reasonable notice and an opportunity to comment on performance reports.

The CAPER public outreach process complied with the Citizen Participation Plan approved during the recent Consolidated Plan process, which includes procedures that supports people with challenges and different language abilities (Appendix F). Once the CAPER was drafted, the following steps were implemented to include public participation:

- A public notice was printed in five Douglas County newspapers on October 21, 2021 informing citizens about the public comment period from October 22 through November 4, 2021 (Appendix G). Contact information was included so residents could provide input and request accommodations for special needs. It also stated that the document could be translated, and an interpreter could be present to discuss comments or questions (Appendix G).
- The CAPER and information from the public notice were posted on the CDBG web page to provide easy access to residents with internet services.
- Hard copies of the document were available at each Douglas County Library reference desk and the Douglas County Philip S. Miller receptionist desk on the first and second floors.
- Staff emailed its contact list of service providers and residents to encourage them to review the CAPER and provide comments.

Douglas County did not receive any public comments on the CAPER.

CR-45 - CDBG 91.520(c)

Specify the nature of, and reasons for, any changes in the jurisdiction's program objectives and indications of how the jurisdiction would change its programs as a result of its experiences.

The County's objectives did not change. Douglas County will continue to closely monitor programs and services provided by future subgrantees and will ensure adjustments are made in accordance with federal requirements and local priorities and needs. The County intends to use many of the policies and procedures established previously as they have been proven effective

Does this Jurisdiction have any open Brownfields Economic Development Initiative (BEDI) grants?

No

Feeling stressed during these times?

WE'RE HERE TO LISTEN.

It's completely normal to have a range of reactions during a pandemic - from mild anxiety to high stress. You are not alone. The pandemic is impacting us all.

Our team at Colorado Spirit is here to be a support at no cost to you. We provide a listening ear, help with stress management, or we can connect you with resources.

Not sure what would help?
Contact us anyway, and let's talk.

All services are provided free of charge.

Here are some suggestions to help cope during a stressful time. Give yourself permission to pick and choose the ones that work for you.

WORK ON WHAT YOU CAN CONTROL.

- » Focus your energy on what you can impact. Let go of what you cannot control.
- » Advocate for what you need.

CONNECT WITH OTHERS AND BUILD RESILIENCE.

- » Give and accept emotional support.
- » Talk about how you are feeling, even as those feelings change.
- » Engage in activities with other people. Doing with others builds resilience.
- » Feeling stuck for ideas about people you can connect with? Scroll through your contacts.

INCREASE YOUR FEELING OF SAFETY. ASK YOURSELF:

- » "What makes me feel safe?" and engage in these practices.
- » "Does this feel ok to me?" and give yourself permission to say no to things that do not feel safe.

CREATE COMFORT FOR YOURSELF.

- » Allow yourself quiet time and breaks, including time outside.
- » Make time to engage in activities that are comforting and soothing. Sometimes it is easier to feel your feelings or make decisions when you are in a comfortable space.
- » Allow yourself to experience and express strong emotions, which are common for all of us during times of stress.

MAINTAIN HOPE.

- » Do things that build hope, gratefulness, compassion, and empathy.
- » Good enough is enough.
- » Find ways to laugh.

OTHER TIPS:

- » Limit harmful media exposure like doom scrolling and consuming large amounts of media coverage.
- » Consider putting off any major life-altering decisions until your stress level is lower.
- » Take care of your body. Restful sleep, balanced eating, and physical activity are still crucial.

DOUGLAS COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT
CITIZEN PARTICIPATION PLAN

INTRODUCTION

Douglas County is required to adopt and comply with a Citizen Participation Plan that sets forth the jurisdiction's policies and procedures for citizen participation in order to receive Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). The Citizen Participation Plan (CPP) provides for and encourages citizens to participate in the development of the CPP, 5-year Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plan, Consolidated Annual Performance Evaluation Report (CAPER) and any substantial amendments to these documents. HUD's requirements are designed specifically to encourage participation by people who are low- and moderate-income.

PURPOSE

The funding allocated to CDBG programs is to develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing, a suitable living environment and expanding economic opportunities, especially for low-and moderate-income persons. Within these broad parameters, the CPP outlines how the County will engage citizens and public and private agencies to develop locally derived goals and set funding priorities. The funds are to assist income-eligible residents and fund projects in areas designated as target areas. Citizen participation is vital to identify community needs and establish spending priorities and is required as part of 24 CFR Part 91. The regulations state that citizens should have a reasonable opportunity to be part of the CDBG process from the beginning to the end. The CPP documents the County's goals and policies that identify and set community expectations for participating in housing and community planning and development programs.

POLICY

Douglas County's policy is to comply with the Citizen Participation Plan and any federal regulations related to citizen participation. To develop the plans required by HUD, Douglas County consults with citizens, local and regional institutions, housing organizations, and public and private agencies before adopting the required plans.

THE CONSOLIDATED PLAN

The Consolidated Plan includes a housing and homeless needs assessment, market analysis and strategic plan and must be submitted to HUD every 5-years. It builds on and documents citizen participation, the needs identified by the community and CDBG spending priorities. The Plan includes strategies to carry out CDBG programs and is a management tool for assessing performance and tracking results.

Before a Consolidated Plan can be adopted, the County will publish the amount of annual assistance allocated by HUD, list the proposed activities for funding, and the estimated amount that will benefit persons with low- and moderate-incomes. The Consolidated Plan is due to HUD 45-days before the start of the program year, and no earlier than November 15 or later than August 16.

All comments received in writing or orally will be considered. Comments will be summarized and included as a part of the plans. A summary of the comments not accepted for inclusion in the plans, and the reasons why, will be included in the substantial amendment.

In the event that an occupied dwelling must be acquired and demolished as a result of the use of HUD funds, the County will comply with the provisions of the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, as amended and Section 104 (d) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, as well as any other relocation regulations imposed by HUD. The purpose is to minimize direct and indirect displacement of persons from their homes to the maximum extent possible.

The Annual Action Plan is submitted annually and includes a summary of citizen participation, the consultation results, and required certifications. The Annual Action Plan is due to HUD 45-days before the start of the program year and consists of the subgrantees' proposed projects and use of CDBG funds for the upcoming program year. Technical assistance will be provided to groups representative of persons of low- and moderate-income that request assistance in providing comments or developing proposals for funding assistance.

The CAPER identifies what subgrantees accomplished during the program year and how funds were utilized. The report is submitted annually and due to HUD 90-days after the end of the program year. Subrecipients awarded CDBG funds are monitored for risk at the end of the program year. The CAPER incorporates these standards and procedures.

CITIZEN ACCESS TO COMMUNITY MEETINGS AND INFORMATION

A minimum of two public hearings will be held annually at various stages of the CDBG program year. Participation is encouraged by offering convenient access to meetings. Written or verbal comments regarding CDBG documents are requested from participants. At least one of these hearings will be held before a proposed Consolidated Plan is published for public comment. When in-person public hearings are prohibited due to emergencies, virtual meetings will be held, as allowed by HUD. During these times, every effort will be made to continue providing opportunities for public comment through other means.

Douglas County will obtain the views of the community on affirmatively furthering fair housing and address Preserving Community and Neighborhood Choice, through the established public hearing and meeting schedule. Organizations with the ability to provide input on housing and members of protected classes, and those that enforce fair housing laws, are included in the consultation process.

Minorities and non-English speaking residents will be included in the CPP process. Douglas County will provide meaningful access to CDBG documents and information in formats that accommodate disabilities and language translation for non-English speakers upon request. Spanish is the predominate non-English language spoken in the County and if requested materials will be made available in Spanish to encourage participation.

Board of County Commissioners' Business Meetings and Hearings

The Douglas County Board of County Commissioners' Business Meetings and Hearings are held on the 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of the month in the public hearing room of the Douglas County Philip S. Miller Building, 100 Third St. in Castle Rock. Business Meetings are at 1:30 p.m. and Public Hearings are at 2:30 p.m. Dates are subject to change; therefore, meeting and hearing dates, times, locations and agendas are posted on Douglas County's website. These meetings are open to the public and allow the public an opportunity to share input on the CDBG program, documents and proposed projects at a convenient time and location that is fully accessible to accommodate persons with disabilities.

The Consolidated Plan, Citizen Participation Plan and Annual Action Plan are scheduled on the Public Hearing agenda. These items are noticed in the local newspaper at least one month in advance of the meeting to provide a summary and promote the public comment period and the public hearing.

CDBG Application Review Meetings

The CDBG Application Review Committee meets during the CDBG application process to evaluate applications and make recommendations for funding. Meeting dates, times, locations and agendas are posted on Douglas County's website. These meetings are open to the public and held at the Phillip S. Miller Building, 100 Third St. in Castle Rock.

CDBG Information and Records

Douglas County updates the CDBG website on a regular basis to ensure that subgrantees and the general public have access to application materials, forms, plans, reports, fair housing information, and invitations to public hearings and meetings.

All information that is due to HUD, including public comment periods, is made available for review on the website. This includes drafts of the CPP, Consolidated Plan, Annual Action Plan, and CAPER until they are replaced by the adopted versions of the plans and reports. Draft substantial amendments of the CPP, Consolidated Plan, and Annual Action Plan are also available on the website for review. A reasonable number of hard copies or alternative formats of these plans and reports are available upon request at no charge.

Additional information and records are available upon request. Requested information will be provided with reasonable and timely access to CDBG program records and plans during the preceding 5-years. Availability is subject to County and local laws regarding privacy and obligations of confidentiality. Douglas County maintains project records for a period of 5-years after the completion of the project.

Public Comment Periods

Public comment periods are posted online and are included in the legal section of the local Douglas County community newspapers. Citizens will be notified through a combined notice of the opportunity to comment and attend a public hearing. The documents that are available for public comment are also posted online, a hard copy at the front desk of the Department of Community Development, a hard copy at the front desk of the Douglas County Philip S. Miller Building, and hard copies at the reference desks of the Douglas County Library branches. All documents provided include a telephone number, mailing address, and email address of the staff person responsible to provide a point of contact for input.

Public comment periods are included for the following documents and time frames:

- Annual Action Plan or substantial amendment to the Annual Action Plan (30-day public comment period)
- CAPER (15-day public comment period)
- Consolidated Plan, including the CPP, or substantial amendment to the Consolidated Plan or CPP (30-day public comment period)

Comments are welcome and encouraged. Comment forms are made available for those who would like to remain anonymous. Staff members are on hand to speak with the public, accept comments and answer questions at public hearings or meetings.

Limited English Proficiency Persons

Douglas County will take all reasonable steps to provide language assistance to ensure meaningful access to participation by non-English speaking residents. Should a significant number of non-English speaking residents be expected to participate in a public hearing, translation services will be provided. The County's population is 90% Caucasian and 9% identify as Hispanic. Only 2.3 percent of the population does not speak English "very well". Although the number of people with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) is small, Douglas County and its subgrantees understand the importance of ensuring access to services, as well as LEP persons having the ability to participate in the public input process. LEP persons will be assisted in accordance with Douglas County's Language Assistance Plan. Hard copy versions of the plans and reports required by HUD and materials available on the website will be translated into Spanish with a 5-day notice, upon request.

Hearing Impaired Persons

On the first page of documents available for public comment, Douglas County provides information for persons who are hearing impaired. The following statement is included, "Persons in need of information for the hearing impaired may call the TTY number at 303-663-7791." The Board of County Commissioners' Business Meetings or Public Hearings have closed captioning through the County's Youtube channel, and live town hall meetings are closed captioned through broadnet.

Special Needs Persons

All adopted plans and reports will be made available to the public in a form accessible to persons with disabilities upon request. Reasonable and timely access to meetings will be consistent with accessibility and accommodation requirements of section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the regulations at 24 CFR part 8, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the regulations at 28 CFR parts 35 and 36. The Douglas County Philip S. Miller building is ADA accessible and the meetings are held on the first floor of the building, which allows easy access regardless of disability. In addition, the Board of County Commissioners' meetings are broadcast live on the Internet allowing anyone with Internet access to listen to the meetings, regardless of disability or lack of transportation. Occasionally, meetings are held in other venues. Thoughtful selection of a convenient location in an accessible building will ensure consistent accessibility for all meetings.

Responses to Written Complaints and Grievances

Complaints related to a CDBG document will be addressed in writing no later than 15 business days, where practicable, following receipt of the complaint.

SUBSTANTIAL AND MINOR AMENDMENTS

Occasionally, changes in community priorities, needs, and resources may warrant a change or amendment to the Consolidated Plan, CPP or Annual Action Plan. The County will follow the substantial amendment process. Reallocating the use of CDBG funds between eligible activities or changes to the CPP will require a substantial amendment.

The County will hold one of the two required public hearings to adhere to the CPP in the event of a substantial amendment to the Consolidated Plan, CPP or Annual Action Plan. Citizens will be notified through a notice in the local newspaper of the opportunity to comment and attend the public hearing. The substantially amended sections will be available for review on the Douglas County website and at the County during the public comment period.

Public Notice

PUBLIC NOTICE CONCERNING DOUGLAS COUNTY'S COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT (CDBG) 2020 CONSOLIDATED ANNUAL PERFORMANCE EVALUATION REPORT (CAPER)

Douglas County has prepared an update to the 2020 program year Consolidated Annual Performance Evaluation Report (CAPER), which evaluates overall progress in addressing CDBG priorities and specific objectives identified in the 2014-2016 Douglas County Consolidated Plan and 2016 Annual Action Plan. This report summarizes project accomplishments and provides a financial summary of the active CDBG programs. The County invites public review of this document beginning October 22, 2021 through November 4, 2021. The CAPER is available in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in accordance with program regulations.

Hard copies of the report are available at Douglas County offices, 100 Third St., Castle Rock, Douglas County, Colorado, or online at www.douglas.co.us/office/finance/mwr/. Reasonable accommodations can be provided to individuals with disabilities or those who do not speak English to ensure meaningful access of this document. Versions of the CAPER in Spanish or other languages are available upon request. Arrangements for accommodations are to be made in advance and may include the use of interpreters, as needed. Translations, interpreters or special needs accommodations can be provided with five-day advance notice by contacting Tim Gil, Douglas County Department of Community Development at 303-914-3700 or tim.gil@douglas.co.us. Persons in need of information for the hearing printed may call the 1-800 number at 1-800-625-7761. To provide comments on the CAPER use the contact information above, or mail written comments to 100 Third Street, Castle Rock, CO 80104.

The comments included in the plans listed above will be summarized and included in the associated plan. A summary of the comments not accepted for inclusion in the plans, and the reasons why, will be stated in the associated plan.

Other changes to an approved Consolidated Plan, CPP or Annual Action Plan warrant a minor amendment, which is an administrative process without public notice or public comment requirements. Minor amendments require updating the documents and reposting them on the County's website with an explanation of the needed changes to inform interested parties and document the amendment.

Minor amendments include a change in the method of distributing program funds. Examples of the method of distributing funds can include changes to the application process, limiting the size of grants, selection criteria or allocation among funding priority categories. Minor amendments also include using funds from any program covered by the Consolidated Plan but not in the current Annual Action Plan. Changes to the purpose, scope location or beneficiaries of an activity are also classified as a minor amendment.

Prior to approval of amendment, the County will ensure the amendments are consistent with the analysis, strategies and certification to affirmatively further fair housing. Upon completion of any amendment the public will be informed through the County's website and HUD will be notified of the changes to required documents.
